Audition Notice

ABOUT THE SHOW

From the celebrated co-authors Jeanne and Sam Brobrick comes Weekend Comedy. When middle-aged couple Peggy and Frank head off to the Catskills for a remote long weekend, her with romance on the mind and him wondering how he's going stay entertained, they have no idea their weekend away is about crashed by a pair of free-wheeling, twenty-somethings, Jill and Tony. When the two couples agree to share the cabin for the weekend, a hilarious clash between the generations begins to brew. Before the weekend is over, can the youngsters learn something from the oldsters and vice versa? Directed by Audrey Schweitzer.

All roles are open to audition. We are seeking 2 men and 2 women for this production. Age ranges and character descriptions are listed at the bottom of the notice. Please note, age ranges are a suggestion and not necessarily set in stone. All those wishing to audition will be required to fill out the appropriate audition form and read a side from the script. Auditioners may be asked to stay and read opposite another individual who is auditioning. Actors may also be asked to attend a callback after the initial audition dates are complete. For more information, contact director Audrey Schweitzer at princessdvr@hotmail.com.
